16th Annual Meeting of the European Council for Cardiovascular Research (ECCR)

Friday 30th September -
Sunday 2nd October 2011

La Colle sur Loup - Nice, France

MAIN ANNOUNCEMENT
Updated with full oral programme

WELCOME INVITATION

On behalf of the Executive Committee, we are pleased to invite you to attend the 16th Annual Meeting of the European Council for Cardiovascular Research (ECCR), which will be held from Friday 30th September – Sunday 2nd October 2011 in La Colle sur Loup, Nice, France.

The ECCR was formally established in 1997 to create within Europe a unique forum for active clinical and non-clinical researchers in the important field of blood pressure and cardiovascular research. The annual conference covers a broad range of subjects, including genetics of cardiovascular diseases, vascular biology, cardiac and renal aspects as well as modern strategies of prevention and therapy in cardiovascular disease.

This highly dynamic field is characterised by the rapid accumulation of new information that contributes to our understanding of the aetiology and pathophysiology of cardiovascular disease processes as well as to the development of better therapeutic strategies. Particular emphasis is put on the participation of both basic scientists and clinicians to foster the transmission of new scientific findings into clinical practice. Besides including invited keynote lectures, free oral presentations, hot topic sessions and a young investigator session, the programme provides ample time for discussion both within and outside the scientific sessions.

For the first time, this year we are holding a PhD Course on the subject of pulse wave velocity, which is a direct marker of arterial stiffness and an independent cardiovascular risk factor. The PhD course will elucidate the theoretical concept of pulse wave velocity and the mechanisms contributing to its increase. An overview of recent experimental and clinical studies will be presented, that will demonstrate the current evidence for the association of pulse wave velocity and cardiovascular risk. The students will learn how pulse wave velocity can be experimentally determined or clinically estimated (various devices will be presented). Finally an outline of possible therapeutic approaches with anti-stiffness potential will be presented. Please indicate when you register if you want to attend the PhD Course.

We look forward to your active contribution to what we hope will again be an exciting meeting in support of cardiovascular research in Europe.
