INVITATION

Dear Colleagues,

The Executives of the British Maternal and Fetal Medicine Society (BMFMS), British Association of Perinatal Medicine (BAPM), the Neonatal Society (NNS) and the Neonatal Nurses Association (NNA) would like to invite their members and colleagues to attend next year's joint conference in Harrogate.

We build on the highly successful 2008 meeting that attracted 800 delegates. Each Society is at the forefront of clinical and basic science research in their fields nationally and internationally. The Societies have selected internationally renowned speakers who will reflect our aims of improving care for mothers and their newborn babies.

Harrogate International Conference Centre provides state of the art facilities together with the excellent environment of the famous spa town, which will allow all participants to have a very educationally and socially rewarding three days.

We look forward to welcoming you to Harrogate.
